

PROGRAM OF HOLY WEEK IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES

Services and Music to Commemorate Passion and Death of the Savior.

Ceremonies of Ritualistic Significance, as Customary, for the Week Preceding Easter Sunday.

The passion and death of Christ is to be commemorated by solemn services and special music in nearly all the larger churches of Washington, beginning tomorrow evening. These services are held on Wednesday, Holy Thursday and Good Friday, these being the three days of deepest significance in holy week—the week preceding Easter Sunday.

In various periods of church history and in various countries holy week has been known by many names, such as the week of sorrows, the great week and the week of lamentation, because of great mysteries recalled to the faithful and the various ceremonies and services celebrated during the days following Palm Sunday and preceding Easter. Students of the Scriptures assert that even in apostolic times special emphasis was laid on the commemoration each year of the last days of the mortal life of Christ.

Of Ritualistic Significance.

Observances of holy week are possessed of more ritualistic significance in the services of the Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal Churches than in the case in churches of other denominations. In the Catholic churches the proper offices and masses for holy week do not differ in any important detail from the office and mass at other penitential seasons or during passion week, while just preceding holy week. The service for which holy week is distinctive from every other service of the Roman Catholic Church throughout the liturgical year is the "Tenebrae," which is sung Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings preceding Easter. The service consists in the singing of the psalms and prophecies from the Old Testament, concerning the Savior, but the most conspicuous feature, aside from the chanting of the psalms, is the gradual extinction of the candles, which are lighted at the beginning of the service, and are gradually extinguished one by one, until only one candle remains, the "Tenebrae," meaning "darkness."

Only One Candle Remains.

At the conclusion of the "Benedictus," only the topmost candle is alight, and this, considered to be typical of Christ, the Light of the World, is not extinguished, but is taken down and hidden behind the altar while the final "Miserere" is recited. The candle is afterward brought out still burning to signify that, though Christ, according to His humanity, died and was laid in the sepulcher, yet He was always alight, according to His divinity, by which He raised His body again to life. The darkness which pervades the sanctuary during the recitation of the "Miserere" is to remind of the darkness that covered the earth at the death of Christ, and the noise made at the end of the prayer represents the confusion of nature for the loss of its author, when, according to Holy Writ, the earth trembled, rocks were rent, graves were opened and the veil of the temple was rent in twain.

Services in the Churches.

At St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church tomorrow evening "Tenebrae" will be sung by the male choir of the church, under the direction of James Dickinson. There will be no sermon. Thursday morning solemn high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. James F. Mackin. Rev. James Krug will be the deacon and Rev. Hugh Curley sub-deacon. Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, Tenebrae service; sermon on "The Holy Eucharist" by Rev. Robert Skinner, superior of St. Paul's College, Catholic University. Friday morning, mass of pre-sanctification at 8 o'clock, celebrant, Rev. J. F. Krug; deacon, Rev. Hugh Curley; sub-deacon, Rev. Charles Flinnerty of Holy Cross College. During the mass "The Passion," by Rev. Louis Kelly, Rev. Michael Mathis and Rev. S. Szanekel, all of Holy Cross College, Brookland, will be sung. Tenebrae service, sermon, "The God-Man Forsaken," by Rev. William J. Carroll. Saturday morning, divine service at 8 o'clock, celebrant, Father Carroll; deacon, Father Krug; sub-deacon, Father Curley. Musical service in keeping with the spirit of the season will be held also in many other churches during these three days. At the Church of the Covenant the evening choir, 109 strong, under the direction of Sydney Lloyd Wrightson, will present "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, Good Friday evening. The solos will be sustained by Richard P. Backing, tenor, and Charles Trowbridge, alto, bass. No cards have been issued and the doors will be open to the public at 7:30 o'clock.

Music by Choir and Orchestra.

The choir of Foundry Methodist Church, under the direction of Anton Kasper, will render "Dubois' Seven Last Words" Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The choir will be supplemented by an orchestra of ten pieces, and the solos will be sustained by Mrs. Boxie, formerly Miss Mary Shier, soprano; Mrs. Anne Sweet Sumner, contralto; J. P. M. Boxie, tenor; John Waters, baritone, and Charles M. Moore, basso, with George Wilson at the organ. The quartet of Calvary Baptist Church—Miss Mabel Roberts, soprano; Mrs. William T. Reed, contralto; Richard P. Backing, tenor; and Charles Trowbridge, alto, bass—will also render "Dubois' setting of 'The Seven Last Words of Christ'" next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

COCOANUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulatified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulatified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

GEORGE W. FOLSOM DIES WHILE ON VISIT TO CITY

Was One of the Most Widely Known Churchmen of Episcopal Church.

George Winthrop Folsom of New York, Boston and Lenox, who was in this city with his wife and a daughter on his annual visit to Washington, died suddenly at the Shoreham Hotel yesterday morning. Death was due to an attack of acute indigestion, which occurred Sunday night. He was attended by a physician, and apparently was on the way to recovery when his physician left. Shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday morning the symptoms returned, and in a few moments Mr. Folsom expired. His wife and Mrs. Churchill Satterlee, a daughter, were at his bedside when he died.

The body was taken to Lenox, Mass., this morning for interment. Before the funeral party started brief services were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. J. D. Thomas, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Brookland.

TWO STATE DEPARTMENT DIVISIONS TO BE MOVED

Bureau of Accounts and Foreign Trade Advisers Will Occupy
Knickerbocker Hotel Building.

Beginning July 1, the State Department will take possession of the Knickerbocker Hotel building on New York avenue just west of 17th street, for the use of some of the bureaus of the department. The lease is for one year, with the privilege of renewal for another year or longer. Among the offices to be installed in the Knickerbocker building are the bureau of accounts and the office of foreign trade advisers, now quartered in the Union Trust building. The State Department now pays $5,000 a year for the use of nineteen rooms in the latter building. The amount of the rental of the Knickerbocker building is not stated, but is said to be approximately $6,000 a year. On economic grounds the State Department asked permission to connect that building with the electric power plant in the State, War and Navy building. By so doing, it was estimated that the current for light and other purposes could be secured at an expense of about $20 a month, whereas by using the present electric system controlled by the Potomac Electric Power Company the necessary lighting, etc., would cost the government about $100 a month. The latter course will have to be followed, however, inasmuch as the controller of the Treasury held that there is no authority of law for extending the government system to "a private building."

Charles Rigby Walls, former judge of the orphans' court, member of the Maryland legislature, bank director and farmer, died near Ingleside, Queen Anne's county, Md. He was born on the Walls homestead near Ingleside.
